REMARKS
As the third sentence in Paragraph 2 wherein it states "no aircraft were available in commission to accomplish the one remaining sortie," I should state that we had only two aircraft to pick from--one of which flew the successful mission on 7 October and immediately thereafter required a periodic inspection, and the second of which flew an unsuccessful mission on 6 October which aborted before penetration because of fuel pump irregularities. This aircraft was also down for maintenance. I simply thought that the statement as it stood was a little too bald.
